CHAPTER 3
CLOSE-UP

Ding Dong!
Who are you?

Hello! I'm from Eleven Design Studio, commissioned by the "Happy New Homes" television program!

Slam!

It's for you.
Yeah?

There's a camera...

Slam!
Wait.

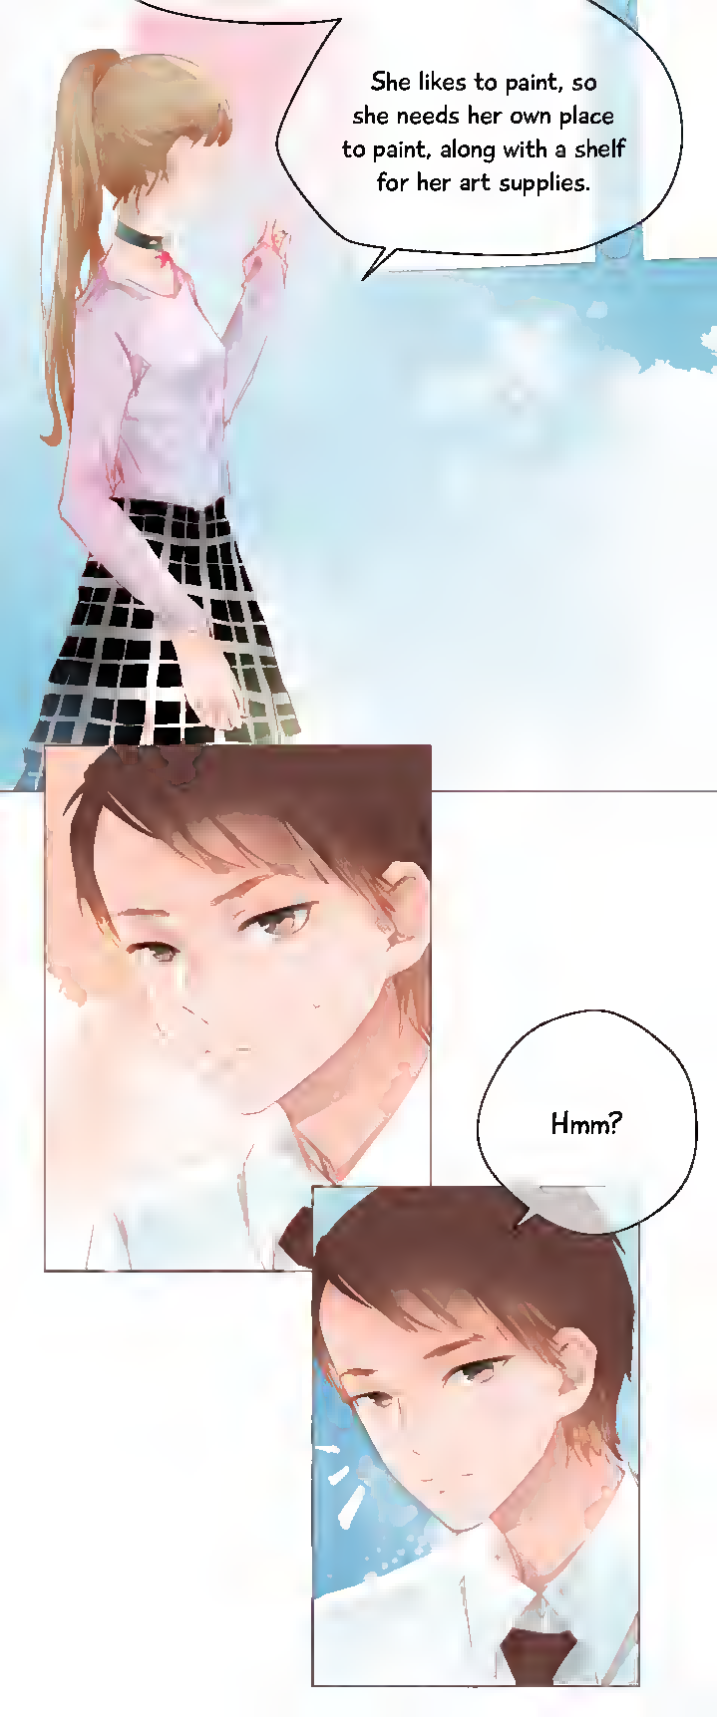
Could you please share with us the structure of your family, along with their careers and needs?

Hold on.
What did you ask me just now?

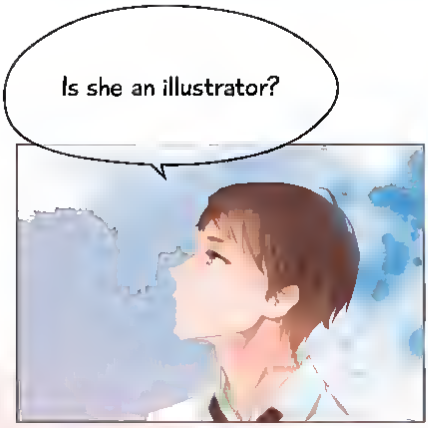
Could you please share with us the structure of your family, along with their careers and needs?

Well, we've got three people in our family: my mom, my sister, and me.
Mom's in the skincare business, so she always brings home a bunch of products, cluttering up the entire house. We need a place where we can stash them all
There's no place to put our shoes near the door, so we'd need a huge shoe shelf
As for me, I need a big, big wardrobe, and a comfortable place to take baths, and

If I remember correctly, your family's budget is only fifty thousand. Aren't you asking for a little too much...?
As interior designers, aren't you supposed to make the impossible possible?
We're designers, not magicians.
Also, these are my sister's things.



She likes to paint, so she needs her own place to paint, along with a shelf for her art supplies.
Hmm?



Is she an illustrator?

Painting's her hobby. Since there isn't much room in the house, she often goes to the park to paint.
Hey! Did you come here to remodel or to look at paintings?
Ah, I'm sorry, I'm sorry! It's just that these paintings are really great!
Great? It's not like we can sell these for money. I told her to become an interior designer or something, like you.
Oh? Is that so? Is she interested in interior design? Could you let me talk to her for a bit?

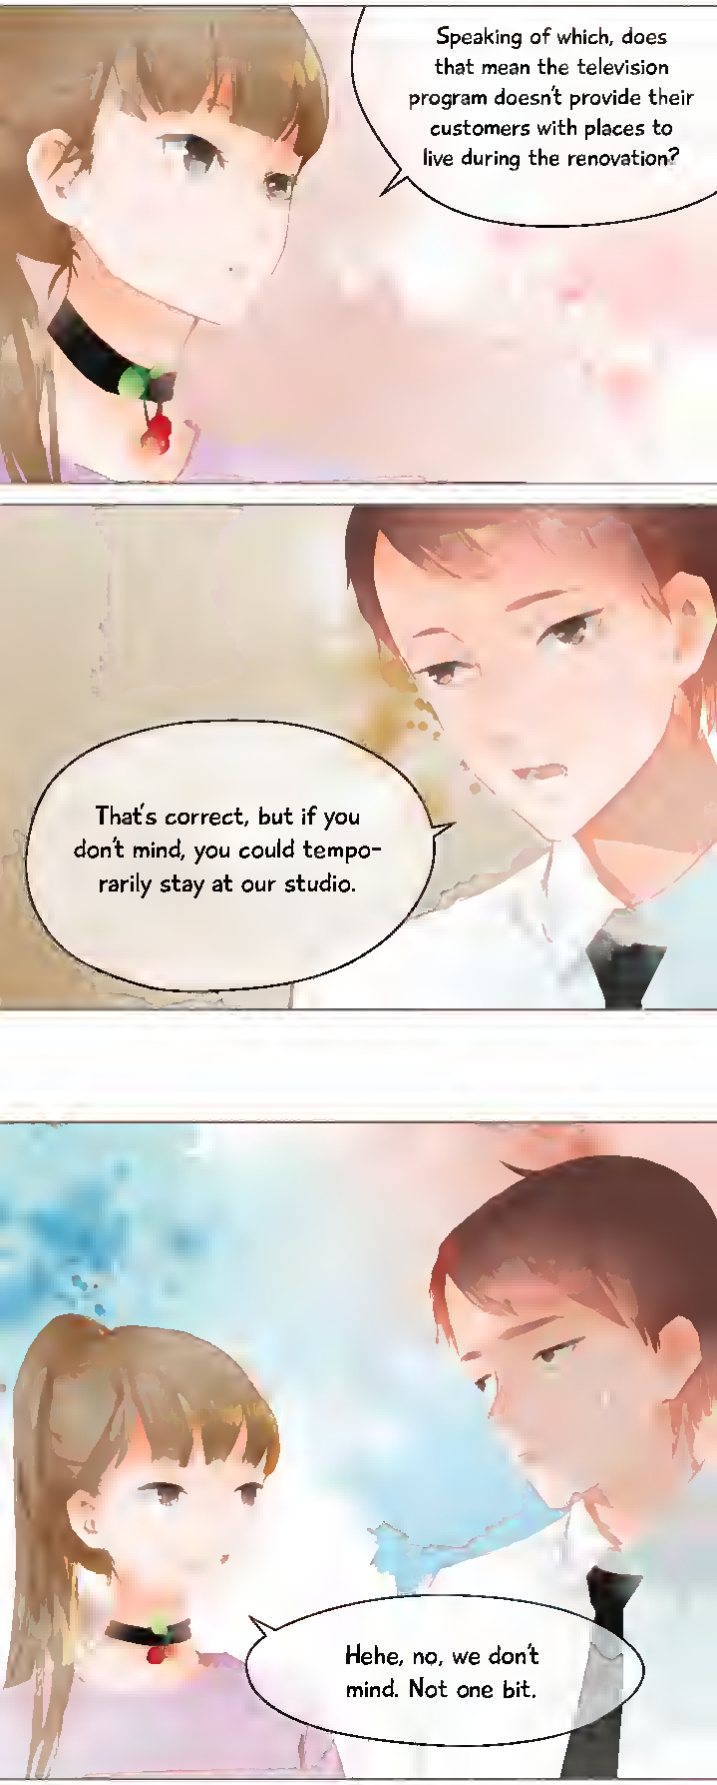
Hoho? What's going on here? Did you come here to remodel, or to find a girlfriend? You're not actually an interior designer, are you?
I just wanted to accomodate everyone, so when we make decisions on the final design, your family will be happy.
There's no need. I'm capable of representing them.

Anyways, I need to have a big wardrobe in my bedroom...

I've pretty much gotten all your basic requests. Since we'll be redoing your house, you'll need to move out for a bit.
Ah! How could I forget something as important as moving?



Speaking of which, does that mean the television program doesn't provide their customers with places to live during the renovation?
That's correct, but if you don't mind, you could temporarily stay at our studio.
Hehe, no, we don't mind. Not one bit.

Well then,
if you'll excuse me...

To be continued...
